

2020 Digital plan

Eric Besson, the minister of Industry, Energy and digital Economy presented the successor of the 2012 Digital Plan, which arrives at its term, with for purpose the definition of the digital politics until 2020. The contributions of professionals and public are expected.

During a dinner with the digital technology professionals, Eric Besson drew the main lines of the 2020 Digital Plan. A call to consultation was launched, with as main challenges the fight against the digital divide, the protection of private life and personal data on the Web, but also cloud computing and especially neutrality of Web.

It is necessary to underline that the list of the subjects to be approached is long: development of 3D contents, e-commerce, on-line administration, etc.

For the audit of the 2012 Digital Plan, but also for the elaboration of the 2020 Digital Plan, 4 working groups were set up with as term on November 30th, 2011 to return the conclusions in particular on the access to the broadband in France but also on the neutrality of the Net which becomes a community stake.

Joomla SEO by AceSEF